Follies.

To think that the more a man eats, the fatter and stronger he will become.
To believe that the more hours children study at school the faster they learn.

To conclude that if exercise is healthful the more violent or exhaustive it is the more good it does.

To imagine that every hour taken from sleep is an hour gained.

To act on the presumption that the smallest room in the house is large enough to sleep in.

To argue that whatever remedy causes one to feel immediately better is "good for" the system, without regard to ulterior effects.

To commit an act which is felt in the morning to be prejudicial, hoping that somehow or other it may be done in your case with impunity.

To advise another to take a remedy which you have tried on yourself, without making special inquiry whether the conditions are alike.

To eat without an appetite, or to continue to eat after it has been satisfied, merely to gratify the taste.

To eat a hearty supper for the pleasure experienced during the brief time it is passing down the throat, at the expense of a whole night of disturbed sleep, and a weary waking in the morning.

To remove a portion of the covering immediately after exercise, when the most stupid draymen knows that if he does not put a cover on his horse the moment he ceases to work him in the winter, he will lose him in a few days by pneumonia.

To contend that because the dirtiest children in the street or highway are hearty or healthy, therefore it is healthy to be dirty; forgetting that daily exposure to the pure outdoor air, in joyous, unrestrained activities, is such a powerful agency of health that those who live thus are well in spite of rags and filth.

To presume to repeat later in life without injury the indiscretions, exposures and intemperance which in the flush of youth were practiced with impunity.

To believe that warm air is necessarily more healthy than the confined air of a crowded vehicle. The latter, at most, can only cause nausea, while entering a conveyance after walking briskly and lowering a window, will, by exposing to a draft, give a cold, influenza, or an attack of plu-ry or pneumonia, which will cause weeks and months of suffering, if not actual death within four days.

To "remember the Sabbath day" by working harder and later on Saturday than any other day in the week, with a view of sleeping late next morning and staying at home all day to rest, conscience being quieted by the plea of not feeling very well.—[Hall.]

GAMBLING IN LEADVILLE.—An interesting story is told of a Pittsburg man, who relates the following experience: "After I had been out around Leadville for several months I got to be tolerably prosperous. I had $800 in cash, a $300 horse, a gold watch and chain, a good pack mule, a rifle, two revolvers, a dog and a meerschaum pipe. One day I came into town and drew all my money, in order to pay for part of a claim which I wanted to buy. I met a couple of fellows whom I knew just after I got my cash, and we resolved to have a quiet little game of poker. Well, sir, I never struck such a streak of bad luck as I did that afternoon. It was a square game, but if any body won any thing they naturally meant to keep it. The first thing I did was to lose $500 on four queens. It was my deal, and I gave another fellow four kings. In less than an hour I lost every cent I had; then my horse, then my watch, my mule, then my rifle, my revolvers and my dog. I went out of the place and resolved to borrow a revolver and shoot myself.

"I walked out to the edge of town and put my hand into my hip pocket to take my revolver. There was no revolver there. As soon as I felt the pipe I gave a yell of delight, and started off on a run for the house where the boys had won my money.
They were still there. I got $200 on my pipe and sat down to play again.
I won a little money, and then my dog, revolvers, rifle, watch, mule and horse. At last I had $1,200 on one hand. The fellow who was betting against me had an ace, king, queen, jack and four-spot flush, and I had an ace, king, queen, jack and five-spot flush. When I got up from the table it was daylight in the morning, and I had $2,800 in cash, besides the money and things I started with. I went down to the boarding-house, borrowed the landlady's Bible and swore I would never gamble again as long as I lived.
I never have since, and I never will."
—[Letter from Leadville.]

A Machine Scraping Bristles from Hogs.
A Chicago correspondent writing to a Cincinnati paper says: "I have just witnessed a private exhibition of a wonderful machine and have obtained permission of the parties most interested to give a brief account of it. My brother-in-law, who is a builder and pork-packer of this city, to-day killed seven hogs, weighing from 100 lbs. to 350 pounds, to test a hog-scraping machine just patented. I had seen corn taken clean from the cob by machinery, but never before had I ever seen the hair and bristles taken from a hog by machinery. I am not permitted to describe the machine in detail, but I can say that the working of it was simply marvelous. A hog was killed, placed in the machine, and almost the same instant it came out slick as a whistle, with the exception of a few odd hairs on the legs and head. The seven hogs were passed through the machine in fifty-seven seconds, and the entire body of each animal was as clean as could be desired. This was the initial test of the machine. It is so constructed as to clean any sized hog, and in the test made to-day animals were selected with a view to test its application to different sizes. I should think from what I have witnessed of its working that with a few improvements which are contemplated it will have a capacity of 6,000 hogs in ten hours.
My brother-in-law is enthusiastic over the wonders already performed by the machine, and says it will certainly save the labor of twenty men for every 2,000 hogs cleaned. It is very simple, and not at all liable to get out of repair.

The Declined Challenge.
The recent Centennial celebration of the capture of Stony Point recalls an anecdote of one of the storming party, Col. Scott, afterwards Governor of Kentucky. He was a brave man and acquired a reputation in his adopted State of a skillful Indian fighter.

While he was Governor some fellow sent him a challenge on account of an offense which he imagined Scott had committed against him (the chal-lenger's) honor. The old soldier did not notice it. The fellow who had given public notice of his intention to "call out" the Governor, was much annoyed at his silent contempt. After waiting several days he sought the Governor for an explanation, and the following conversation took place:

"Governor Scott, you received a challenge from me?"
"Your challenge was delivered, sir."

"But I have received neither an acknowledgment nor an acceptance of it."

"I presume not, sir, as I have sent neither."

"But of course you intend to accept it?"

"Of course I do not."

"What! Not accept my challenge?"
Is it possible that you, Governor Scott, brought up in the army decline a combat?"

"I do with you."

"Then I have no means of satisfaction left but to post you a coward."

"Post me a coward?" exclaimed the Governor, bursting into a hearty laugh. "Post away, and you'll only post yourself a liar, and every body else will say so."

And that was the end of it.

MEDICATED ICE.—Dr. Edwin Andrew, of Shrewsbury, England, has pointed out the advantages in certain surgical and medical cases of employing medicated ice. He thought the cold was rendered more effective by being combined with the active principles of drugs, and by freezing various medical solutions. In that manner ice might be rendered highly antiseptic, caustic, or styptic. In medical cases, especially of the throat, stomach, and hemorrhages from internal organs, ice might be thus pleasantly used to relieve symptoms and at the same time convey medicine as food to the stomach when the latter would resist them in any other way.

In Breston benevolent women have established a Refuge for Aged Colored Women. This institution was organized nearly twenty years ago.
They exact no admission fee, but give them care and homes, the same as white sisters receive in similar institutions. It has room for only about twenty-one women, and is kept full.
As soon as one goes out another is taken in to fill her vacancy.

Mrs. Freeman, wife of the fauntical fiend who killed his little girl at Wareham, Mass., a few months ago, came to her senses, it will be remembered, immediately after the tragedy. She has now got back to her old way of thinking and fully indorses her husband's terrible deed.

The flowers act as weather interpreters. When their odor is very strong, the air is gradually becoming damp, and rain may not be far off. They are very sensitive to the atmosphere, and increase of dampness causes them to throw out perfume.

Last year every female was crazy for a pair of sixteen-button kid gloves.
This year all are satisfied with two button kids if they can only have the widest surcingle ever worn by horse or woman.

When they do discover these confounded poles, some lunatic will be slinging a rope from one pole to the other and running a wheelbarrow over it.

A late number of the Walla Walla (Washington Territory) Watchman says: The question is frequently asked, "What does it cost to raise wheat in the great valley of Walla Walla?" After a careful inquiry, we adduce the following answer: It costs about $1.90 per acre to plow, sow, and seed; $1.25 to cut and head, and about seven cents per bushel to thrash and sack it. This includes wages, board, and hired help, and horse feed. A header usually works up from fifteen to twenty acres, and thrashes, with good machinery, clean up from 2,000 to 3,000 bushels per day. Harvest hands receive from $2 to $3 per day, and board. The yield this year is larger and heavier than usual, and ranges all the way from twenty-five to sixty bushels to the acre. Wheat, according to the above figures, can be raised and sacked for twenty-four cents a bushel, and is worth to-day fifty cents, which shows conclusively that our farmers have a perfect little honanza.

A housemaid writing to a friend respecting the fashions, says: "As for lances, the loer it is the mo' fashu-ble yu air drest. Miss Goodra gave me a blew silk uv hern; I cuts its nec orf, and Suzin Simmuns cut orf hern, and we attrax a grate deal of attenshun to our nees, prommading in the streets lyke other ladies, and holding up our cloze. No body isn't nothin now which doesn't hold up her cloze, and the hier yu holes them the more yu notice."

"Papa, won't you come home tonight? Manma cries so much when you are away," said one of the little children of Joseph A. Blair, as he climbed upon his knee in the Courthouse at Newark, N. J., where he was on trial for killing his coachman.
The counsel of Mr. Blair who planned that scene was a genius. The jury was sent out on Saturday, and at last accounts had agreed to a verdict of acquittal.

The merchant won't credit an honest man, that intends to pay, and who will work his nails off to make his goods good, for a necktie, but the lounger and "sleeker," that does all his work with his tongue, can go in and buy a whole suit of clothes on tick and never intends to try to pay for them. We take consolation from this thought as we calmly view the rags that have served us so long and so well.

One day last week a Leadville jury got mad at the Judge, and ordered the Sheriff to lock him up for a couple of weeks "just to take some of the style out of him." And to His Honor's great exasperation, he was innocently jogged off to jail, and is now in durance vile, while the case is going quietly on, with the most popular bar-keeper in town on the judicial bench.

Those who have bees and desire to keep them through the coming winter should look after their stores now, and see that they are provided with enough to last through the winter months.
There isn't one-half the colonies in the country that have stored enough honey to last them till next Spring.
We predict that bees will be valuable property another year.

Some interesting marriage statistics are given by the Galveston News. The News says that Shakespeare was married when he was eighteen, Dante at twenty-three, and Brigham Young when he was eighteen, nineteen, twenty-two, twenty-four and so on.

The Rev. Wm. McKay, after reading several notices from his pulpit in the Methodist Church at Geneva, Ind., said there was another matter as to which he desired to inform his congregation—his wife had eloped with Mr.
Hutton, a neighbor.

A accomplished locomotive engineers long time the engineer of the 1:15 train from the South has not varied six inches in bringing up his train to the Springfield (Mass.) depot.

A sensational Boston preacher has out-Talmaged Talmage by reading from the pulpit a partial list of the gambling and other infamous houses in the city, specifying in each case the street and number.

"My dear," said Mr. Talmage, a few hours before he landed, "please rub the knees of those pantaloons very hard. They don't look shiny and worn enough."

plied: "I don't care, A-dam, if I do."

often asked to give as they.

"Probabilities" from Josh Billings.

Josh Billings, who has, as usual, been spending the Summer in the White Mountains, has put it in the way of the editor of the White Mountain Echo to print a few component parts of his new book, to be published this Fall. Its title will be "Old Probabilities," and it will have for its leading motto—"Truth is sel 2 b stranger than ficksun—it is to most phokes."

The selections are these:

About the hardest thing a feller can do is to spark 2 gals at one time and preserve a good average. Try it.

Don't despise your poor relations.
They may be taken suddenly rich sun day, and then it will be awkward to explain things to them—undoubtedly so.

Nex to a clear conscience for solid comfort cums an easy boot. Try both.

If a yung man hain't got a well-balanced head, I like to see him part his hair in the middle. Don't you?

I don't take any foolish chances. If I was called upon to mourn over a ded mule, I should stand in front of him and do ni weeping.

There is no man so pore but what he can afford to keep one dog, and I have seen them so pore that they could afford to keep three.

I thank the Lord that there is one thing in the world that money can't buy, and that is the wag ov a dog's tail. Yure unkle.

I have seen men so fond of argument that they would dispute with a guide board at the forks ov a kuntry road about the distance to the next town.
What fools.

There are but fu sights in this life more subline and pathetic than to see a pore but virtuous yung man struggling with a mustach. It is thus.

VIRGINIA will elect members of the Legislature next Tuesday, and party issues seem to have been lost sight of in the all-absorbing question of paying or repudiating the State debt. The contest is exceedingly warm, and it is surprising to know how many men, who have reputations for honesty, are for swindling the creditors of the State out of their honest dues. The Old Dominion suffered more by the war than any other State, and many persons of wealth were reduced to poverty; but times are looking up, and if the people will go to work they can in the time and on the terms proposed, pay every dollar of their indebtedness. We have an abiding confidence in the good people of Virginia, and are sure that they will speak in no uncertain tones next Tuesday and roll up such a majority against repudiation as will maintain her time-honored name pure and untarnished.

These people of Elliott County, finding how hard it is to get jurors to do their duty and realizing the probability of the Governor extending his clemency when occasionally a jury has the backbone to convict, have taken the law in their own hands and hung two desperate characters confined in jail on numerous charges. The instrument of death was a plow-rope, which, after being tied around the victims' necks, the men were held up so that the other end could be tied to a limb of a tree. They were slowly let down and allowed to strangle to death. Lynch law always follows the lax administration of the laws of the country, and until the juries and Governor Blackburn learn this, we may expect to hear of divers mobs doing bloody work.

Governor Blackburn has pardoned John Spillman, who was convicted in Garrard County eleven years ago for rape and sentenced to twenty years in Penitentiary. The reason assigned is that "this colored man is shown to have been innocent, but the prejudice against him at the time of the trial was so great that this verdict was rendered to save him from mob violence." If such were the facts, it shows the terrible state of affairs that existed in Garrard and other counties just after the war, and which, we are proud to know, has been overcome.

Mrs. LANGTRY, the noted beauty of England, had the editor of the London Town Talk arrested for saying she had had criminal intercourse with the Prince of Wales. At the trial he was unable to make the charge good, and was sentenced to six months in jail and fined £500. The "Jersey Lily" is, therefore, vindicated, and the London editors will hereafter be slow to tell on her, even if they were to see her behave naughtily with their own eyes.

The bonded indebtedness of Fayette county, we learn from the Press, is $311,000, $90,000 of which falls due in 1881, with but slim probability of being met, and the County Judge is trying to devise some way out of the difficulty. The tax for the sinking fund alone is 26 cents on the $100 worth of property, and it is no wonder the old Court-house stands as an eye-sore to the citizens of Lexington.

It is now said that all the surveys of the Big Sandy R. R. have been completed, the right of way obtained and that President C. P. Huntington will be in Lexington between the 1st and 10th of Nov. to let the contract for building the road. This, if true, will be good news to the hundreds of laborers and others who have been patiently waiting for the work on the road for many months.

YELLOW JACK has succumbed to Jack Frost, and the refugees are returning to Memphis by the hundreds. All the Quarantines have been raised, stores so long closed are again open, and the streets present their former busy appearance. The total number of cases of Yellow Fever during the epidemic was 1,512; deaths, 473. In 1878 there were 4,200 deaths.

The official count of the Ohio vote has at last been completed, and shows Foster's majority at 17,129; Hickenlooper's over Rice, 15,678. Two years ago Bishop, Dem., was elected Governor by 15,000 or 20,000 majority; this year Ewing, Dem., although he received 47,407 more votes than Bishop, is defeated by 17,129.

GEO. JOHN B. HUNTON, of Lexington, an old-time Democrat, has been interviewed by the Courier-Journal, when he expressed himself emphatically for Tilden, and for General Palmer, of Illinois, for Vice-President. The line continues to lengthen and the boom becomes louder and louder.

It appears in very bad taste for Sherman to stomp the State of New York for Cornell, the man whom he removed from the Custom House for frauds against the government. But John has long ago given up any claim to the prefix of "honest" in his name.

We applaud Commissioner of Internal Revenue Ramm for one thing—he will not allow any of his subordinates to advocate repudiation in old Virginia.

THE TILDEN BOOM.—A number of influential and well-informed attorneys from our neighboring towns are here this week, in attendance on the Circuit Court. We have talked to each of them in regard to the Presidential question, and have the following answers to the direct interrogatory:—"Who is your choice for the nominee of the Democratic party?"

Judge M. H. Owsley, of Lancaster—"I am for Tilden, and have been all the time. The old ticket and the fraud issue is our surest chance for success."

Hon. J. S. VanWinkle, of Danville—"Emphatically for Tilden. I want to see him vindicated of the malicious charges and insinuations that have been made against him. He is, in my opinion, an honest and upright man—and by-the-way, men of that description are exceedingly scarce at present in the political world."

Judge R. P. Jacobs, of Danville—"I am for Tilden first, and think he should be the nominee; but, should he not be, Bayard is my next choice."

Hon. John Cowan, ex-member of the Legislature from Boyle—"I have all along been for the old ticket, both as a matter of expediency and fair play. It is the surest ticket for the race."

Hon. John C. Cooper, a former member of the Legislature from this county, but now a citizen of Shelbyville—"I am a faithful Tilden man, and hope to see him nominated, but I expect that will somewhat depend on the coming election in New York."

In addition to these representative men, our own lawyers, who in point of knowledge of political affairs—or for legal lore, either, as for that matter—cannot be excelled in the State, are for Tilden first, last, and all the time, with but a single exception, and he is beginning to halt between two opinions. It is so every where.

NEXT Tuesday will settle the business in New York and tell whether the people will have honest old Robinson to rule over them or by siding with the bolter, Kelly, and his corrupt Tammany crowd, elect Conkling's man, Cornell, whom Sherman kicked out of the Custom House for dishonesty, to the Governorship. It is only a matter of spite on the part of Kelly, who would sacrifice the party to appease it, and it is a consummation devoutly to be wished that the Democrats will put forth their most earnest efforts to lay him away forever. It is by no means a dead certainty that Robinson will be elected, but he can be if all Democrats will do their duty, and it will be a shame upon the State if he is not. We hope to record a tremendous Democratic victory next week.

The effort of the Greenbackers to become a separate political party has been most abortive, and ought to decide the remainder of its supporters to return to the ranks of the Democratic party, from which most of them strayed. But 9,000 votes in the whole State of Ohio, where they imagined themselves very strong, will, no doubt, and should calm their perturbed spirits forever.

THERE are two States that you never need to lose any money on—Kentucky and Iowa. They are as certain to go, the one Democratic, the other Republican, as the stars are to fly upwards. Kentucky gave her Governor 45,000; but Iowa, the other day, saw that and went 20,000 worse, or, in other words, Governor Gear, Rep., has a majority of 65,000.

GENERAL GRANT has replied to an invitation of the Mayor of Louisville to visit that city, that he will do so on his way East, but is not able to name the time at present. They think of putting him in the Exposition building and charging an admission of fifty cents, and we predict that he will outdraw the Exposition, shooting men out of cannon, and all.

BOLTER KELLY figures his vote in New York City at 125,000; the Republicans give him 75,000, while the Democrats claim that he will not get over 25,000. We hope to see that the latter figures will prove correct and that Kelly and all the other bolters will be taught such a lesson as will put an end to the business for all time to come.

A BALE of cotton donated by a farmer of Texas for the benefit of General Hood's children was sold and re-sold in Houston till it realized $1,000. It was then sent to Waco, where it will again be sold. We don't see the difference between this fund and giving directly to the fund, unless, perhaps, there is more fun in it.

THEY are about to have a coal famine in Cincinnati, and the people are becoming so much alarmed that they got all the preachers last Sunday, that believed in such a thing, to pray for such a thing to pray for rain. We shall determine if they are righteous when we see that their prayers avail themselves to speak of.

THE Cincinnati Commercial is evidently not much of a Grant man. Hear him:—"If the champions of the third term would point out something that Grant, as President, could do that another man in that office could not do, they would confer a favor upon a large number of their fellow-citizens."

THE St. Paul (Minn.) Globe prophesies that the Electoral College after the election in 1880 will stand 203 for the Democracy and 153 for the Republicans, with the 13 votes of Oregon and Wisconsin in the doubtful column.

EMMETT LOGAN, who has been at Frankfort eating the Governor's extra good hash, is out in the Courier-Journal with a long list of excuses for his unparalleled conduct in the pardon business. He gives the Governor's reasons for his acts in his (the Gov.'s) own words, and it is about as gaudy a piece of chat as we ever read. He first remarks that he does not care what the penny-a-liners say about it, and adds, "I know I am right, and, by the Eternal, I intend to go ahead, in spite of the howls and growls of little eight-by-ten backwoods papers." That's the way men always talk of the honest newspapers that have shown up their infamous acts, and the remark stamps Blackburn a vulgarian, as well as a loon. He does not care for these criticisms, but he shows by the numerous excuses that he has caused to be published in the Courier-Journal and elsewhere that he winces like a galled jade at every lash that has been directed at him. Let the papers continue their good work, let the indignant citizens rise up against the great nullifier of the laws, and we will wager that it will put a check on Blackburn's wild career.

THE Secretary of State, Col. Saml. B. Churchill, has published a letter in the Courier-Journal to prove that the Governor has exercised his pardoning power with discretion and sense, those that he has pardoned out of the Penitentiary being sick and loathsome objects of mercy. We don't suppose that if he would confine his operations to that class of convicts there would be a man to raise his voice against it; but he has not done so. He has pardoned some outside of the "Hell-hole" that should have been sent there, and the fines he has remitted has been without sense or reason in the cases of those we have knowledge. But we can expect no more of the wonderful humbugman.

SENATOR BAYARD is due from Europe next Wednesday, when he will arrive at New York. His friends will give him a grand reception, and in case Robinson is defeated, they will start a big boom for him, if they can.

A GENTLEMAN of a speculating turn of mind bought 50,000 kegs of nails at the time they commenced to rise so fast, and sold them in less than a week at a profit of $1 per keg, making the neat little sum of $50,000.

THE total number of registered voters in New York City is 168,045, 9,000 more than last year, and 15,000 less than in the last Presidential race. The city is Kelly's stronghold. Outside of it he will be a sorry opponent.

THE Judges of the Court of Appeals have elected Ex-Astutor-General John Rodman as the reporter of the court for the next two years, over Judge W. P. D. Bush, the present incumbent.

The Ohio River at Louisville, is lower than ever before known, there being less than two feet of water in many places, while the Falls present a barren appearance, huge rocks and beds of stone being visible for miles. The width of the river usually one and a quarter miles is now only half a mile.

Each convict now pardoned by Blue Jeans Williams out of the Penitentiary is released on the condition that he is not to use intoxicating liquors for the remaining time for which he was sentenced. These conditional pardons render the convicts violating them liable to arrest and recommitment to the Penitentiary to serve out the time of original term of imprisonment.

A woman of extraordinary size died in Virginia the other day. She measured thirty-four inches across the shoulders, and weighed within a fraction of six hundred and ten pounds. The coffin was necessarily of immense size, and before it was delivered two ordinary men lay in it side by side on their backs without crowding each other in the least. When brought to the house it could not be got through the door, and it was necessary to leave it outside until the time set for the funeral, when the corpse was carried out to the coffin.

TO THE VOTERS OF LINCOLN COUNTY.

I am a candidate for re-election to the office of Circuit Court Clerk. If my personal and official intercourse with you during the five years I have held the office has been acceptable to you, I would like to have an endorsement in a re-election. If re-elected, I promise you that I will give my best efforts to the faithful, efficient and agreeable discharge of my duties as a public officer. I am a Democrat, and in thus submitting my claims to you, I am convinced that in the great National contest to come in 1880, it will be for the best interests of the party that entire harmony should prevail in its ranks, and I therefore most cheerfully announce myself as a candidate, subject to such action as the Democratic party may see proper to take in the selection of a nominee for the office.

A Complaint.

PREACHESTERVILLE, Ky., Oct. 27, '79.

Editor Interior Journal:

I propose to inform the readers of your valuable paper how they are treated by some of their county officials. At the Court of Claims which met the first Monday in this month, there was a committee appointed by the Court, consisting of M. C. Portman, Wm. Garnett and W. H. Miller.

Portman, Wm. Garnett and W. H. Miller, to visit the Poor-house, Saturday the 18th inst. was the day designated to meet at the Poor-house for the purpose. "Squire Portman failed to attend, and the matter was postponed to Monday, the 20th inst. I met the committee at both times and put in a bid. I proposed to pay the county $225 rent for the land and property belonging to the Poor-house. I then offered to take the paupers at $65 per annum, or at the rate which reduces the present expenses $250, or $12.50 per head. I also put in another bid that I would keep the paupers at the rate of $62.50, and the Court charge me no rent, which would make a saving of $27.50 to the county. I am responsible for what I say, and I could have given a bond for ten thousand dollars if it had been required. I am as well prepared to keep the Poor-house as any man in this county, for I have plenty of corn, wheat and pork to feed the present number of paupers. If the committee had awarded the contract to Mr. Jas. McAllister at either of my bids, your readers never would have heard from me, but I was convinced that some of the committee would have awarded the contract to Mr. McAllister if I had almost agreed to take it for nothing. I intend to rip up this contract, and I appeal to the tax-payers of this county for their sympathy. I see from W. H. Miller's report of the contract, that there is some slight difference in the contract from last year. That is said only in order to cover up the matter. I hold that I know who is a pauper, and who are able to work for wages, and know who ought to be excluded from the Poor-house. Now, gentlemen, I have stated the facts in the case, and I think the committee will bear me out in it. I always was opposed to making one man rich at the expense of every body.

Respectfully yours, &c.,

WILKINSON PURSUIT, J. P. L. C.

Before putting the above in type, we submitted it to Mr. Miller, who supplemented as follows:

The explanation I have to make for assisting in employing "uncle Jimmie" McAllister as Poor-house Commissioner, is that I know him to be worth more per annum to that capacity by $275, $275, 000 or any other sum than Wilkinson Pursuit, "J. P. L. C." He could not have gotten my vote for the position under any state of case. He is unfit for it. Respectfully,

W. H. MILLER.
